WHEELING, SEPTEMBER 19, 1889.

MRS. ROBERT RAY HAMILTON SMOKE cigarettes incessantly. This may be her scheme to cheat justice.

"The Presbyterian church in Philadelphia which the Rev. Madison C. Peters left to go to New York will try thirty clergymen and then take a vote to see which one of the thirty shall be called." Possible! Are there thirty Presbyterian clergymen of so little self respect as to stand up and be shot at in that fashion? The trial sermon is at best an ungracious and somewhat unscemly performance. It requires the proacher to try to please the congregation that sits before him, instead of trying to please the Master he instead of trying to please the Master he is supposed to serve.

good advice to colored men. The advice rests on natural law so sound that the white man too may profit by it: "We counsel against entering politics for a livelihood in lieu of entering other fields and Americans have their own market. if this rising tide of criminality is not checked?" Isn't it just as desirable now as it was then that "a few criminals should not be allowed to bring discredit upon the law abiding?" Has the Democratic State Committee been reading the Register the riot act? Pull Together for Natural Gas. The committeemen to raise funds in behalf of a natural gas test for Wheeling are on their rounds. They should be well received by every one who wishes Wheeling well, particularly by those whose own business success depends on the prosperity of Wheeling's industries. Merchants no less than manufacturers should contribute to the undertaking, for Wheeling merchants live on Wheeling industries. Let us all pull together and see whether we have natural gas at home, of education. Wealth and equipment, mental, moral and industrial, are the key to the situation."

Given this "key to the situation," in this land of boundless possibilities, a man may command all that he needs to make him respected and happy. He will have no need of public place, and if this come to him he will have the independence to do his duty, ready at any time to step back in the ranks and go on as before.

If every colored man were possessed of this "key" there would have been no occasion for the same meeting to "condemn the brutal outrages committed upon our people in the South." These outrages would not have been committed. Education and property give strength. Out-would not have been committed. Education and property give strength. Outrage seeks its victims among the weak.

What's the Maiter Now?

In connection with the latest lynching in this State the International remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and meous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is accord of capital offenses committed in West Virginia. This was done for a good purpose, as everybody realized who is blessed with common sense.

The publication caused the Register to froth at the mouth and behave itself with more than its customary idiocy. Which makes it pertinent to remind the Register that while its General Manager was off frolloking with the blithesome

PRIVATE DALZELL'S OPINION

Of Commissioner Mason's Eloquent Address on Pensions—Beautiful but Impracticable—Eloquent but Utopian.
To the Elitor of the Intelligencer.

Six:-Like many of your readers I am pleased with the speech of Commissi of Internal Revenue Mason, published in your columns Monday. The figures in your columns Monday. The figures given by him are startling and suggestive. I hall it as a good omen of the good time coming—late, but better late than never—that an officer of the Federal Government charged specially with providing the funds necessary for the payment of pensions, should so boldly proclaim his desire that Congress shall pass more liberal laws on the subject than any ever vet enacted.

What gives his speech special prominence and interest at this juncture of our pension contest is that he speaks by the book and not as the Scribes and Pharisees, but as one speaking by authority. He clearly demonstrates that the amount required to pay liberal pensions will not cripple the Government financially, as many ignorant people say it will.
